Innovative	Role Plays
Method
Description	1. Students are divided into groups of 4-6 members.
-	2. Each group is assigned a specific organizational scenario (e.g., a company undergoing change, a team facing conflict, or a merger situation).
	3. Groups will research their assigned scenario and develop a role-play that includes key characters (e.g., managers, employees, stakeholders) and specific challenges related to services marketing
	4. Each group presents their role play to the class.
	5. During and after the presentation, groups will provide an analysis that contains the following:
	a. Situation Overview: A brief description of the situation and characters involved.(at the initial)
	b. Identified Challenges: Key issues presented in the role-play.
	c. Theoretical Framework: Application of relevant concepts.
	d. Recommendations: Proposed solutions based on their analysis.
	e. Reflection: Insights gained from the role-play experience and its application to real-world.
Objectives	The objective of implementing roleplaying is to enhance engagement, critical thinking, and practical application of theoretical concepts among students.

Innovative	Active Learning
Method
Description	Students are given a particular topic. They are asked to study and research it. Then they are instructed to apply the theoretical concept to the real world. For instance students may be instructed to interview front line employees to gain information and knowledge.
011
Objectives	Hands-on experiences allow students to apply theoretical knowledge in real-world settings, gain practical skills, and develop a deeper appreciation for the complexities of business management. This learning also fosters collaboration, teamwork, and leadership skills, preparing students for success in their future careers.
